M'KNIGHT INDICTED.

A'so Several Louisville Aldermen Must Answer for Conspiracy to Defraud. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 1 .- The circuit grand jury returned indictments at noon Saturday against J. M. Mc-Knight, president of the German national bank; Sterling B. Edmunds, politician and aldermen; R. E. King, C. J. Jenne, John E. Leatherman, O. Breur, N. J. Frick and F. A. Britt, members of the combine known as the "lig Seven." The other member, Alderman J. W. Roder escaped by turning state's evidence. One indictment charges all with conspiracy to defraud the public. Alderman F. A. Britt was also indicted for receiving a bribe of $2,000 from President McKnight, of the German national bank, and an indictment was returned against McKnight for bribing Britt. The joint indictment against Mc-Knight, Edmends and the aldermen charges that they combined with Alderman J. W Roler and other "wicked and corrupt" persons to pass which would procure whereby they would make $1,000,000 for themselves. The grand jury declined to indict Mayor George D. Todd on the charge

Much Damage to Property and Seve People Drowned. FRANKPORT, Ky., Feb. 24.-Streams n Kentucky are clear out of their banks and doing unmeasurable damage. Several people have been drowned in various parts of the state. Much stock has been lost, fencing swept away and other property almost ruined. The streams all through the mountains are higher than for years and the greatest damage is feared. News comes from Pineville, Ky., that two white men while crossing a raging stream, were drowned, also a revenue officer, who was in the mountains looking after moonshiners. Names not given. The streams are impassable and when all reports are received it is feared that the loss of life and property will be large. Stock in many sections is drowned. At Middlesboro a cloudburst deluged the locality, drowning James Charwell and family. Charwell and his wife and four children, while en route home from a neighbor's in a wagon, were caught in the cloudburst and all

At Harrodsburg, near Dixville, the water ran over the bridge. E. Patterson and wife attempted to cross. Mrs. Patterson and the mule she was riding were carried away. The woman sale of the Louisville caught the limbs of a tree half a mile down stream. The husband swam to her and got her up in the limbs. Neighbors made a raft and reached them. The water washed Patterson of bribing members of the city council off the raft. He was finally rescued in to secure his election, and gave the an unconscious condition and will die. In this city the Kentucky river is away out of its banks and is higher than it has been since the flood of 1893. The entire west end of the city is inundated and the water is gradually making its way up in the city. Families in the west end are being moved from their houses in boats. So far there have been no lives lost in this city, but great danger is anticipated as the river is rising at the rate of a foot an hour

All but two blocks of Pineville, Ky. is covered, while a number of little jurors favored the death penalty, but towns along the north fork of the Kenon account of the age of Franklin, tucky river are under water. The people have been forced to seek shelter on the mountains. Reports from Jackson and other places up the north fork say there has been considerable loss of life and property.

Mrs. Hutzell's little daughter was drowned in their house, which was washed from the mountain side in Breathitt county Monday night. Two men, whose names could not be streams in Bell county.
